LET'S WORK TOGETHER

We can bring a new voice and fresh audience to your business through evergreen blog posts, social media mentions and real-life photography. As a partner, we will work with you on specific promotions to engage future travelers and the travel community. You can rely on us to provide honest feedback of our experiences and share them through storytelling, while still including the important details.

ABOUT US

JetSetting Fools is a professional travel blog written by full-time travelers and social media influencers. Our website is dedicated to inspiring people to go on their own adventures and travel the world. Our growing readership and social media following seek our guidance on itineraries, walking tours and off-the-beaten-path adventures complimented with insight, history and culture. We intertwine our travel stories with detailed 'how to' specifics, advice and tips in order to enhance our fellow travelers' experiences abroad. We have both a passion for travel and a strong work ethic, which isn't always easy to find in the travel blogging industry. We produce well-written, entertaining and reliable resources. As a couple, our strengths and weaknesses are balanced between us, making us stronger as a team.
